

Hazard Communication Test

Employee Name: _____

Date: _____

Circle either T for true or F for False

1. MSDS means material safety data sheet. T F
2. Your employer is required to maintain appropriate MSDSs for each hazardous chemical product in the workplace. T F
3. MSDSs must be made readily accessible to employees at all times during each work shift. T F
4. MSDSs contain important information on the hazards of chemical products including symptoms resulting from over-exposure to the product, appropriate protective equipment and special precautions to be taken when handling, using or storing the product under normal use or emergency conditions. T F
5. A product that is corrosive to skin is not considered hazardous. T F
6. You may obtain access to the appropriate MSDS for a product by using the identity listed on the label. T F
7. Labels of chemical products should contain appropriate hazard warnings. T F
8. You will know a product is hazardous by referring to the label and / or MSDS. T F
9. Skin rash, burns, headaches, or dizziness are examples of overexposure to chemical products. T F
10. The Health Hazard section of the MSDS describes the health hazards of a chemical product and includes emergency and first aid procedures. T F
11. Your employer must have a written hazard communication program available. T F
12. The specific chemical ingredients in a product must be listed on the label. T F
13. In order to determine whether any protective equipment or special work practices are necessary, employees should refer to the Control Measures section of the MSDS. T F

14. The Fire and Explosion Hazard Data section of the MSDS describes the product's potential to catch fire or explode. T F

15. The label's hazard warning describes the specific hazards of a chemical product. T F

16. The label does not need to include the name and address of the manufacturer or distributor. T F

17. A hazardous chemical is any substance which presents a health or physical hazard. T F

18. Flammability is considered a physical hazard. T F

19. The Written Hazard Communication Program contains a list of the hazardous chemical products present in the workplace. T F

20. Your employer should teach you how to handle chemical products safely and provide any necessary personal protective equipment. T F